Habitat for Humanity Las Vegas helps families build better lives through affordable housing. Our vision is to build a world where everyone has a decent place to live, which is the essence of the American dream. We do this through homeownership, by building single-family homes throughout Clark County for hard working families earning less than 80% of Area Median Income. Together we build homes, settle families and grow a community of neighbors. Visit our website at: lasvegashabitat.org for more details.

The Community Engagement Coordinator is responsible for all aspects of the Habitat for Humanity Las Vegas' (HFHLV) volunteer and community outreach program. This includes the recruitment, retention, processing, and coordination of all HFHLV's volunteers, including construction volunteers, ReStore volunteers, convention volunteers, special events and any other supportive volunteers. This position is responsible for developing and implementing volunteer engagement strategies to enhance and grow the volunteer program and assist in transitioning volunteers into donors. This person serves as a front-line employee who regularly interacts directly with donors and volunteers and represents Habitat for Humanity Las Vegas in the community and works to ensure that they receive a positive, safe and rewarding experience.
